Dear Mr. Wiltgen,

Thank you for the thoughtful note and gift. While this lovely book does very much exhibit the talent of your design team, unfortunately, I am unable to accept gifts in my capacity as an elected official. As such, I am returning the gift to you along with this correspondence.

I hope you understand, and I do appreciate the thoughtfulness.

Thank you,

Dear Ms. Mendoza,

What an accomplishment to be chosen as one of Chicago Magazine's Power 50. Congratulations. Someone of your stature undoubtedly appreciates the dedication, hard work and focus it takes to be chosen for this prestigious achievement.

Please accept our enclosed gift honoring your accomplishments with the same appreciation of great design that I use as the guiding force and mission for my company, John Robert Wiltgen Design. Our team relates to the path you have traveled to reach the pinnacle of your career. For more than 35 years we have worked to build a reputation of excellence in the design arena by creating private estates around the world. We believe elements of style in custom homes and the restoration of historic treasures assumes an entirely new perspective under the direction of the correct design alliance.

The homes we design or re-invent give me immense pride each day. I would be grateful for the privilege of personally sharing our firm's perspective with you and exploring the possibilities of a residential design opportunity that would meet the expectations of your family and its possible future generations.

May your world be beautiful.

Sincerely,

John Robert Wiltgen, Professional Member IIDA
